Physical Protection

Give your building the best protection

Comfortable, reassuring and safe from most blasts

Personal safety is paramount to a successful business or to feel safe in your home. Worry of potential terrorist attacks or other dangers can hinder this success, and fill daily lives with unnecessary anxiety. One way to diminish such feelings of anxiety and heighten success is to fortify your workplace and/or home from inherent dangers. One of the most effective methods of damage control is preventative methods to reinforce the protection level against likely damages. If there is one thing no one wants to worry about, it is whether the buildings they spend time in are potential targets for terrorist attack.

At Damasec, we specialise in top physical protection systems that provide some of the best reassurance. We prepare buildings to ensure minimum consequences, should the worst happen. Furthermore, our solutions maintain the original atmosphere of a home or workplace, while installing the added comfort of security.

Choose us for your physical protection needs, and you will find us dependable, solution oriented and perfectly equipped to meet future global challenges.

Protection

Whether you are constructing a new building or reinforcing an existing one, our systems provide maximum bomb, blast and forced entry.. Even in old, listed buildings, we can provide high performance fortification without bars on windows, avoiding detracting from any antique charm.

Our personalized solutions begin with an individual building risk assessment. Using this assessment we can identify the optimum solution for securing building structures, doors, windows and surrounding parameters. We do not leave you with our recommended high quality solutions alone, but offer a skilled team to ensure the correct installation of all features. In the case of larger projects, we even appoint a specialized on-site project manager to successfully ensure and document that all installations are performed in-line with our high quality standards. When necessary, we also conduct our own blast tests to ensure the suitability of materials for a specific project.

You can count on us to meet all your physical protection needs, in one total delivery.

We think ahead so that you don't have too. Through us, you gain access to our portfolio consisting of only the world's best and most robust products and materials, carefully selected by our skilled professionals. Through Damasec, you will experience the power to overcome all your physical protection challenges.

- Doors and windows

Security can be accomplished in style. Custom-made by world-leading manufacturer with an attractive design, our doors and windows provide optimum blast- ballistic- and forced entry-protection. Windows may be fixed or operable.

- Structure reinforcement

We use a composite carbon- or glass fibre to reinforce walls, columns and beams. Developed to withstand earthquakes, it can absorb the most powerful blasts and survive vehicle collisions. The fibre is non-toxic for a healthy indoor environment.

- Wall cover

Comprising aramid fibres and cotton, our composite wall coverings absorb blast pressure and barricade flying fragments.

- Collision-resistant street furniture

Strategically placed, reinforced bollards, benches and flower planters resist forced vehicle entry into your building. This enables us to implement discrete integration of physical protection into urban landscape without compromising creativity, character and design.

- Composite wall

The Composite wall offers a unique integral protection throughout a building. It can be used as a stand-alone wall protector on the inside of an existing weak wall as well as supporting the weight of the protection windows. And can be used in combination with doors and windows.
